SUFFOLK POLICE ARREST COMMERCIAL ARMED ROBBERY SUSPECT

SUFFOLK, VA (June 18, 2019) – Suffolk Police arrested a suspect in an attempted commercial armed robbery of the Subway restaurant located in the 6500 block of Hampton Roads Parkway overnight on June 17, 2019. Emergency Communications was notified of the incident at approximately 9:19 p.m.

At 9:30 p.m., an Officer responded to the McDonald's restaurant located in the 6200 block of College Drive related to a report of a male suspect at that location who had attempted to rob the Subway restaurant. Cameron Mitchell Hall, age 26 of Portsmouth, Virginia, was detained and placed under arrest on a charge of robbery.

The suspect reportedly had entered the Subway restaurant, provided a note demanding money, and displayed an object thought to be a weapon. The suspect then left the business in an unknown direction. There were no injuries and nothing was taken from the business.

No additional information is available for release.
