Mason's Seafood & Chophouse Restaurant Opens

SUFFOLK, Virginia (January 3, 2014) Mason's Seafood & Chophouse is now open for business at 148 Burnetts Way, Suite 112 in the Freedom Plaza Shopping Center. To celebrate, they are holding a Grand Opening – Ribbon Cutting ceremony on Saturday, January 4th at 4 p.m. Mayor Linda T. Johnson will be in attendance for the event.

Mason's Seafood & Chophouse is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner, seven days a week. The menu features house-made beef brisket, duck confit, pasta, steak and vegetarian entrées. The chef at Mason's locally sources the seafood from suppliers such as Wanchese, in Suffolk. Seared tuna, rockfish and scallops cooked in bacon fat are popular seafood dishes.

Hichem Manai and Dylan Wilson, co-owners of Mason's Seafood & Chophouse, aimed to open a restaurant that serves upscale cuisine in a casual, family atmosphere. This location in Suffolk, allows them to reach diners from all across Hampton Roads. The location is also convenient to the area farms and food suppliers. "Serving and supporting local products is what keeps the food fresh and quality second to none." remarked co-owner Wilson.

"Mason's Seafood & Chophouse is another terrific addition to the variety of dining options our community can enjoy," said Suffolk Mayor Linda T. Johnson. "We appreciate their enthusiasm for fresh ingredients, and wish them much success."
