

Suffolk Transit is continuing its stepped-up campaign of enhanced cleaning of facilities and equipment following the disclosure that coronavirus infections have begun to appear in Virginia. All buses and paratransit vehicles are being cleaned more thoroughly to include railings, handholds, stanchions, windows and the drivers' compartments of buses. Buses have also been outfitted with additional paper towels and disinfectant spray for operators to wipe down shared surfaces at each hub arrival or as time allows throughout the day.

We encourage everyone to keep in mind that maintaining good, personal hygiene habits is essential to controlling the spread of any disease.

- Wash your hands using soap and water, or an alcohol-based gel.
- If you must cough, cover your mouth or cough in a tissue or into your flexed arm.
- If you are sick or have a fever, stay home.
