Dramatic Expressions Leisure Class for Kids at Creekside Recreation Center

SUFFOLK, VA (October 5, 2011) The arts are a fantastic place for kids to learn how to express themselves. Drama is one way kids can be anything they want just by using their imagination!

In this kids-only class, students will discover and develop their hidden or visible dramatic talents.. They will learn how to work as a team by using their voice and body in exercises and games. Students will use improvisations and scripts to bring characters to life. All skills used in class will enhance the self-esteem of all students and assist them in communicating more effectively. They will also showcase their talents to an audience at the end of the session.

The class will be held at Creekside Recreation Center, located at 1000 Bennett's Creek Park Rd., Suffolk, Virginia. Registration will begin October 5, 2011. The class will be held November 1, 2011 through December 21, 2011, 4pm-5pm. This class is for children ages 5-12 and the fee is $30.00 per person.

For more information, please contact LuKendra Banks at Creekside Recreation Center, 757-514-7245.
