Police Seek to Identify Suspect Passing Bogus Checks

SUFFOLK, Va. (September 22, 2009) – Suffolk Police are asking for assistance from the public in identifying a suspect that stole checking account information and passed forged checks for several thousand dollars. Police advise that a Suffolk resident reported in July that her checking account information was used to pass three bogus checks. Each check was written for items totaling in excess of $1,000.

Police obtained photos of a suspect as he made purchases at a Lowes in Spotsylvania County, Va. on July 30. The suspect also passed checks at Wal Marts in Virginia Beach and Fredricksburg. The name listed on the check was Chris Robinson.

Detective David Wellford is the lead investigator. Anyone that may be able to identify the suspect is asked to contact Crime Line at 1-888-Lock-U-Up.
