Suffolk Swears-In New Police Officers

SUFFOLK, VIRGINIA (December 22, 2010) Five new police officers took the oath to “serve” and “protect” the City of Suffolk this morning. The Council Chamber was filled with Suffolk City and Police officials, family and friends to witness the Badge Pinning Ceremony.

The five new officers are Danielle Anderson, Cheryl Blair, Matthew Moraczewski, Zachery Potwine and Shelly Simpson. Suffolk City Manager Selena Cuffee-Glenn congratulated the new officers, remarking how their dedication and determination led them to this important moment in their lives.

Police Chief Thomas Bennett reminded the new officers that their journey for knowledge does not end with their appointment and they should continue the learning process. He also reminded them of the trust given to them by the public and to always maintain their integrity.

Family members had the honor of presenting the new officers with their badges. The officers will now go through more training specific to the operations of the Suffolk Police Department.
