UPDATE

SUFFOLK, Virginia (November 3, 2016) – Suffolk Police advise that the Medical Examiner has indicated that following their review of the remains discovered at the cemetery there is no reason to believe that foul play was involved.

POLICE INVESTIGATING FOUND SKELETAL REMAINS

SUFFOLK, Virginia (November 1, 2016) - The Suffolk Police Department is investigating skeletal remains that were found earlier this afternoon.

Emergency Communications received a call at 2:54 p.m. advising of the discovery of unsecured skeletal remains believed to be possibly human not associated with a vault at the Macedonia Baptist Church Cemetery located in the 8300 block of Crittenden Road.

Graves date back as far as a century or more in some areas of the cemetery. Construction renovations at the cemetery due to erosion on site have ceased at this time as the investigation continues.

No further information is available at this time.
